ושחד לא תקח (שמות כג:ח)

Do not accept a bribe (Shmos 23:8)

The Torah tells us that bribery blinds the eyes of those who can see and distorts the words of righteous people. Such is the power of favors that create bias.

The Avnei Nezer comments that there is a major difference between a person who is actually blind and one who is prejudiced because of a bribe or bias. A blind person knows he cannot see and will ask for help when he needs it; but a biased person can be prejudiced to such an extent that he does not even realize that his sense of reality has become distorted. He feels that his twisted view is the true one, and he will not listen to anyone else's logic.

From: Something to Say.
